

A Novel About Ultralight Pilots Carol Plotnick Publishes *Flying Wires

Carol Plotnick, a freelance writer for Light Sport and Ultralight Flying magazine, and a former staffer with U.S. Ultralight Association, has had her novel – Flying Wires – published electronically. “Due to budget constraints, electronic versions have replaced paper,” says Carol. “As soon as I finish my Website, I will begin selling the PDF version. I’m also going to produce a Kindle book through Amazon.com.”

This busy author has also researched an upcoming book about the 396th Bombardment Group during WWII, and moderates Women-UL-Wings, an Internet forum for women pilots.
